

SUNWARRIOR

Quality, Back to Nature Products That Help You Conquer the Enemy

By Loraine R. Dégraff

The air is charged with anticipation of the battle. The troops, lined up, silently watch the straggling rays of light dip behind the horizon. As the darkness deepens, the soldiers brace themselves and listen intently. The enemy can steal in from any direction.

The body is the battleground and territory to be defended. The troops are the millions of cells forming a barrier of protection against invaders. Anything not recognized by these militant cells is the enemy. The enemy could sneak in disguised as a bacteria or virus then, without warning, transform into a monstrous disease bent on destroying each diminishing ray of health. How effective the cells fight—and, consequently, the outcome of the battle—depend on the strength of the Great Warrior Immune System.

To the Rescue . . . Sunwarrior, Inc.

Sunwarrior, Inc. is an enterprising raw superfood company committed to making the best plant-based products on the planet while elevating humanity and preserving the earth. Raw foods are foods that have not been cooked or exposed to temperatures over 118°F. At this temperature, the natural enzymes in the food are completely destroyed. Enzymes are essential for all the chemical processes in the body, especially digestion. Superfoods are foods that have such a high nutrient concentration they are invaluable in the fight against aging and illness. Superfoods have high amounts of flavonoids and micro and macro nutrients yet are extremely low in calories. Plant-based foods are foods such as fruits, vegetables, legumes, whole grains, nuts, and seeds. These foods are close to their natural state and so provide the body with natural energy. Sun Warrior products fit the bill of raw, superfood and plant-based. This quality line of organic products includes the following:

- Warrior Blend—An unparalleled fusion of the finest raw plant-based proteins in a delicious, easily digestible, nutrient filled formula perfect for anyone who wants to excel in health and fitness.
